THE WHITE ELEPHANT

Stuffy McInnis and Jack Barry Expeoted to Assist at Opening of Captain Danny Murphy's New Place.

Having purchased the Moriarty place Having purchased the Moriarty place at the corner of Market and Water streets, in the Cassidy building, Captain Daniel F. Murphy of the world's champion Philadelphia Americans for 1911, is to open the place as a first-class salocn. Out of loyalty to the world's champions he is to christen it. The White Elephant, and will be ready for the formula constitution on Thursday.

for the formal opening on Thursday evening, this week.

For the big feature of opening night.

For the big feature of opening night, Owner Murphy is counting on having two of his comrades on the diamond here, First Baseman Stuffy Melnniss and wish good luck to their popular aptain in his business start.

Captain Danny will have associated with him Frank E. Watson and Charles Connell, two of the best known mixologists in the city, and will have the walls of the place decorated with trophies suggestive of the national game, in which Captain Danny has been a star and the local hero for the last len years. From the multitude of hiends that he counts a prosperous areer for The White Elephant and aptain Murphy can be predicted.

BREED THEATER.

In All Feature Programme Attracts Large and Interested Audiences.

An endless amount of pleasure and wofit is to be derived from the excelsant bill at the Breed today, for it overs a major portion of the gamut of human emotions. One of the leaders of the four great feature pictures is the superb railroad story entitled. The Grit of the Girl Telegrapher. This story is distinctly a story of the life that is lived by the people employed in different capacities on the railroad and pictures among its other stirring features the capture of a notorious third pictures among its other stirring fea-tures the capture of a notorious thief who is escaping on a locomotive. This is accomplished by the fair daughter of the railroad agent at the station, and she desperately follows the escap-ing criminal on another locomotive and succeeds in capturing him and return-ing with him in irons.

The Biograph story of A Feud in the Kentucky Hills is one of the most sen-national stories that this company has put out. It depicts in all its fierce intensity the earnity of one family for another and shows a battle between the two factions that has never been equalled on the picture screen. Man-ice Costello is seen in another of his amous "Lambert Chase, Detective," sictures.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

John P. Studley's Record Appeals.

Mr. Editor: I have been reading in your paper of this date your short sketch of Judge John P. Studley, the republican nominee for governor. His record must appeal, as it does to me. to every veteran of the civil war. After reading it the second time I cannot, even between the lines, find a flaw, except you omit to mention that he is a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic

I have never met the man, but ! I have never met the man, but I venture that when we old soldiers have sovernor of the state, occupies the chair governof the state, occupies the chair of honor, he will not follow in the footsteps of his predecessor and regale us by reading a studied encomium of Generai Lee, nor will be like Wilson, de-nounce as "lavish folly" the patriotic generosity of the pension system. PAUL HILLARD. Stonington, Conn., Oct. 21, 1912.

Is Governor Wilson Misrepresenting?

Mr. Editor: The Bulletin readers who

Mr. Editor: The Bulletin readers who read the speeches of Dr. Woodrow Wilson of Princeton chapel at the several county fairs cannot be blamed for asking the question. Is Dr. Wilson misrepresenting things?

"It makes a great deal of difference to you that Mr. Taft the other day votoed the steel bill. It makes a difference to you in the cost of practically avery tool that you use upon the farm, and it is very significant to you, that a democratic house of representatives has just passed the steel tariff reduction over the president's veto."

Now, I would like to know what Dr. Wilson means, If he is not misrepresenting things. Under the Payne-Aldrich bill plows, tooth and disk harrows, harvesters, reapers, drills and planiers, mowers, horserakes, cultivators, threshing machines and cotton gins were placed on a strictly and purely free list, if coming from any country which admits our products duty free, otherwise dutiable at the product which which admits our products duty free, otherwise dutiable at 15 per cent, which is the lowest rate they have ever borne coming from dutiable countries. If you doubt this, get a copy of the law, tura to pill-sgraph 476, schedule N. Sundries, and you will read:

"Plows tooth and disk haveness have

"Plows, tooth and disk harrows, harvoters, respers, agricultural drills and planters, mowers, horserakes, cultivators, threshing machines and cotton gins, 15 per cent, ad valorem; provided, that any of the foregoing, when imported from any country, dependency, province or county, which imposes no tax or duty on like articles imported from the United States, shall be imported free of duty."

Some of Dr. Wilson's friends claim that he didn't intend to misrepresent matters, but wasn't theroughly posted. It is useless to say that for an ignorant man has been seen who were the contract of man is as bad as a man who openly states things that are not so—that is in the White House. At another place Dr. Wilson said:

"The farmers are not looking for pro-tection and do not get it."

That is all Dr. Wilson knows about that matter. If the farmers had no protection, why all the howl about the anadian reciprocity act two years of the farmers had not protection, why was the opposition so strong to ach and every man who favored that act?

The simple fact is that an average rice of imported farm products for ten ears, 1897-1907, the ad valorem rate

A FEW SEASHORE LOTS

Situated in the Town or Charlestown, R. I., fronting the Atlantic Ocean, on one of the best bathing beaches in the state. These lots are lifty (50) feet frontage on ocean and one hundred fifty (150) feet deep. In the rear of these lots there is a sait water pond nine miles long, sandy bottom, excellent boating and fishing. The price of these lots is two hundred ($200) dollars. Remember the prices that were paid fore lots at Pleasant View four years ago and the prices that are being paid now. These cottage sites that I am offeping for only $200 are on the same ocean, same beach, senly a few miles east lof Pleasant View. Here is a chance to buy a seashore cottage site at a low figure and have it increase in value many fold in a year or two. Avail yourselves of this opportunity and don't be among those that will say (after they are all sold) I wish I had bought one. THE SET OF THE SAILS, ship drives east and die other

By the very same wind that blows; Tis the set of the salls, and not the gales. That shows which way she goes, Like the gales of the sea are the waves of Fate.
As we journey along through life;
"Tis the set of the soul that determines the goal,
And not the storm or the strife.

THE TELEPHONE GIRL. The telephone girl sits still in her chair
And listens to voices from everywhere. She knows all the gossip, she knows all the news, she knows who is happy and who has the blues;
She knows all our sorrows, she knows all our joys,
She knows all the girls who are "chasing the boys."

She knows all our troubles, she knows of our strife.
She knows every man who is sharp
with his wife;
She knows every time we are out on the bend.
She knows the excuses that each of us send.

If the telephone girl told half that she It the telephone girl told half that she knows.

It would turn all our friends into bitterest foes;

She would sow a small wind that
would soon be a gale,
Inguir us in trouble and hand us a

Jail.

She would start forth a story which,
gaining in force,
Would cause half our wives to sue for divorce.

She could get all our churches mixed up in a fight.
And turn our bright days into sorrow-ing night:
In fact, she could keep the whole town In fact, she could keep the
in a stew.

If she teld but one-tenth of the things that she knew.
Oh! doesn't it make that old head of yours whir!

When you think what you owe to the telephone girl?
